Three limited service men are to leave this city Friday, August 30, for Camp Upton, Yaphank, N. Y. They are Alfred Larocque, Centerville, R. I.; Dwight M. Jordan, Willimantic; and James F. Shea, Putnam, Conn.

Only Slightly Wounded.
Mrs. Patrick Lee of Chapman street has received a letter from her son, Sergeant James L. Lee of Company K, 102nd Infantry, who was reported severely wounded in action. He states that he was only slightly wounded and will be back on the firing line soon.

He was wounded after completing a trip into "No Man's Land" with another Willimantic fellow, William McKernan in which they took 23 German prisoners. On the way back, the two Willimantic men with their 23 prisoners were shot at by a moving picture man for about 5 minutes, and advises his friends to watch for the picture. The wound was caused by shrapnel which exploded nearby. One of the pieces of shell entered his left leg above the knee. The pieces of shell were easily found by a doctor and he expects to return to the trenches soon.

Slurring Remarks—Suit for $10,000
For saying he was guilty of inciting murder, Mottie Gilman of this city is sued for $10,000 damages by Mrs. Gertrude I. Gilman, also of Willimantic.

The papers were served Friday and the case is returnable in the Windham County Superior Court the first of next month. Real estate has been attached to cover the claims. In the complaint, it is alleged that these words were spoken by the defendant on August 1.

Memorialized By Gold Stars.
All three of the Willimantic men who gave their lives for their country, in the present war have gold stars in service flags in the city.

In the American Thread Company flag, which contains 118 stars, there are two gold stars, for Joseph Aubin and James Shea. The Thread City Cycles service flag contains 33 stars, one of which is a gold one for John Squires. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell of North street have an unusual service flag in honor of their son, Eugene T. Campbell, as they have a large picture of the soldier pasted on the flag.
